We are occasionally asked about a "special" or "sale price" for the upper deck pressure control. That is a valid question given the marketing strategy of many companies that frequently or constantly reduce the stated price of a product. This practice is particularly unfair to the customers who paid "full" price. Our policy is simple. We charge a reasonable price for the product with a realistic and reasonable markup. With the exception of the very rare, legitimate "sale", the true value of a product is the lowest current selling price. We do not mark up the price just to mark it down for a sale. Our price is consistent and an honest value. That stated, we do upon occasion offer enhancements or other value added perks, at a cost to the company for the benefit of the customer. The exhaust bypass elbow is one such occasional perk. So it doesn't matter if your EBE is junk or if it is brand new—you keep your core and we will provide a new exhaust bypass elbow (EBE) at no additional charge for a limited time only. Call Pat McMurray or Suzanne for a quote or to purchase. This is a limited offer, so don't delay. Call today.
